

Join the ALTRU Caregiver Network.

Independent caregiving opportunities in Alpharetta, Roswell and Milton.

You will be seen here.

Caregivers do the hardest work in this business and are too often overlooked. TLC was built to recognize the people who make excellent care possible.

Choose work that fits your life.

Review available client opportunities and decide which ones to accept. There is no minimum number of clients or hours, and no guaranteed schedule.

Grow your skills and opportunities.

Optional ALTRU Academy modules in dementia and end-of-life support can qualify you for additional types of client opportunities.

$18 to $24 per hour, by type of care

Companion care starts at $18. Personal care and specialty work pay more, and Academy modules open the higher-paying opportunities. Weekly payments. $100 gas card when you join, plus another after 100 hours of care.

We choose our network by one standard.

Would we trust this caregiver in our own mother's home?

If the answer is yes, we want to meet you.

Already a CNA? Start with credentialing.

We verify your credentials, background requirements and readiness for the network. A brief TLC orientation introduces our standards, platform and client-matching process.

Still finishing your program? Apply now.

We would like to meet you before graduation. Network participation begins after all required credentials and screening requirements are complete.

What you learn is yours to keep.

Build expertise you can carry throughout your caregiving career.

Network caregivers are independent contractors, not TLC employees. They choose which client opportunities to accept and are responsible for applicable taxes, licenses, insurance and business expenses except as stated in a written service agreement.
